How would you describe your personality? I'm kind and calm. My friends often say "I can feel easy while being with you."

What is most important to you? Family, friends, love smile, health, think positive things, and the time which I will spend with my partner after getting married.

What countries have you been to? Ireland, Korea, Egypt

Is there anything about you that your future partner would want to know before becoming involved with you? Yes No
After we get married, I don't mind where we live, in Japan, your country, another country – wherever we live, I'll be okay.

What are your hopes and plans for the future? Raising a happy family with my loved husband. While we are on a trip, on an anniversary day (those are special days, of course), but even just on regular days, I'd like to cherish all those days with you. And I want to spend enjoyable life with my future family.

What message would you like to send to your future spouse? Hello! Let's talk a lot and enjoy various things together. I'd like to build a relationship where we are able to support each other when one of us has difficulty. I love traveling and I'd like to visit many countries together. When we travel around in Japan, I want to take you to wonderful places.
