What are your hopes and plans for the future? I've lived in Europe and through that experience, I believe I can enjoy living overseas. I'd like to decide where we'll live by talking to my future partner. If possible, I'd like to live in a house where we can enjoy nice view through the windows. I'm also hoping to work at my house by doing something related to my experience or hobbies.

What message would you like to send to your future spouse? When 2 people who are raised under different cultures meet and establish a good relationship it is a kind of miracle. Then, if we can respect each other's culture and support each other, it'll grow into a wonderful and mutual culture. If we are together, we'll be happy wherever to live. I'm looking for a partner who I can feel this way with.
