I would like to learn salsa and ski.

Do you want children someday? Yes No

Do you already have children? Yes No

Do you smoke? Yes No

How would you describe your personality? Passionate, full of energy, friendly, curious, outgoing, sociable, adventurous and caring. I don't consider myself as a typical Japanese woman as I am quite straight forward and don't repress myself as many Japanese do. I am always eager to learn new things and develop/improve myself.

What is most important to you? To have healthy body and mind. To live my life fully without any regret.

What countries have you been to? I have lived in three countries and visited nearly 20 countries, especially in Europe.

Is there anything about you that your future partner would want to know before becoming involved with you? Yes No
I have two cats :-)

What are your hopes and plans for the future? To settle down and have family with my dream man. I don't mind living in Japan or somewhere else as I speak English, as long as the country is good to raise children. I am not interested to be a housewife, as I would like to develop my own business and continue working at my pace even when I become a mother.

What message would you like to send to your future spouse? I have several reasons why I am looking for a non-Japanese partner. I will tell you later if you would like to know. I am very honest and open minded, and I believe that the mutual understanding of the differences of each other is the key to have a healthy and fruitful relationship. I care enough to listen to you, empathise and change to be better, or at least make an effort to. I think that problems can arise in any relationship. However, we can always overcome them if we don't ignore the problems and talk through them. :-)
