Is there anything about you that your future partner would want to know before becoming involved with you? Yes No
I've lived in Canada for studying, but I'm not fluent at English. I'd like to improve it through communication with you. I'm keeping a small dog and she is friendly and cute. I'm hoping continue to be with her. Depend on our decision or in the future, I'm willing to think of living overseas.

What are your hopes and plans for the future? I'd like to meet a partner who needs me, raise a warm family and travel all over the world together someday. If possible, I'd like to keep my current job, but if we'll do better to go overseas, I'm flexible about it.

What message would you like to send to your future spouse? I'm getting excited about waiting to meet my future prince!
